Section G: Important Information

To promote community, education and the resident experience, all traditional freshmen will be assigned to a freshman designated room in St. Joseph's Hall. Housing assignments are randomly assigned unless a specific roommate is requested. A successful roommate relationship is dependent on communication and an active attempt from both residents to compromise in which Residence Life helps to develop in the first few weeks. Indicators such as academic major, sleeping habits and interests can determine differences and similarities, however, can not determine the success of the roommate relationship and/or predict any changes that will occur throughout the academic year. All other incoming student types will be placed considering availability along with their own unique experience.

Holy Family's goal is to have the same number of incoming students as we have beds available. When the number of incoming freshman exceeds the number of beds, we still need to provide housing to everyone. One temporary measure the University takes is to assign some students into Extended Housing. In this case, the University will notify all residents prior to housing assignments to inform incoming residents.

Assignments and roommate information will be mailed the last week of July. In the event that a student is not assigned a roommate or the assigned roommate does not move in, the University reserves the right to assign students or consolidate rooms at any time. Single rooms will only be given at the request of the Disability Services Office.

- Students will not be allowed to enter residence if they fail to complete the following items:
- Return a Student Housing Application
- Provide VALID Insurance Information
- Complete a Medical History Form (Sent separately through Health Services)
- Settle all billing and payments with the Business Office
